The purpose of the NAMI Ohio's Statewide Consumer and Consumer Supporter Network grant is to strengthen their organizational relationships, increase the influence of active and educated consumers and consumer supporters on mental health systems, foster leadership and management skills in local and statewide organizations, and identify technical assistance needs for those organizations. NAMI Ohio also plans to strengthen its own internal infrastructure. MI Ohio will collaborate with two other statewide consumer and family organizations to set up and operate a joint 1-800 information and referral telephone line that will be staffed by trained and supervised volunteers. This help line will strengthen all three organizations and will increase the availability of critical information and referral to consumers, family members, families of children with serious emotional disturbances, providers, educators, community leaders, policy makers, and potential funders.

Project Period: 9/30/98 - 9/29/01

GLAD HOUSE/First Step Home/Crossroads (GH/FSH/CC) coalition's goal is to break the intergenerational cycle of drug and/or alcohol by providing a prevention intervention program to 6 to 8 year old children and simultaneously providing the substance abuse mothers both nurturing skills and family strengthening skills. The intervention is aimed at reducing behavioral and emotional problems, improving academic performance, and strengthening the family unit. The two primary program objectives: 1) to evaluate the efficacy of an intervention aim at enhancing behavioral, academic, and family outcomes of COSAPs and their families; and 2) to determine whether outcomes vary as a function of the child's history of behavioral disorders, the severity of the parents' addiction, and the child's self-efficacy.

Targeted Capacity Expansion for Substance Abuse Prevention and HIV/AIDS

SP08943

Congressional District: OH-11

FY 99 Funding: $231,595

Project Period: 9/30/99 - 9/29/02

African American youth in the City of Cleveland are living in an environment where the use of drugs and alcohol and the early initiation of sexual activity are becoming increasingly prevalent. The goals of this cooperative agreement are to reduce the incidence of substance abuse and HIV/AIDS in African American youth, to increase the target communities' capacity to continue prevention efforts beyond this project, and to evaluate the effectiveness of a curriculum integrating substance abuse and HIV/AIDS prevention. The target population involves youth ages eleven to fourteen in four Drug Free Zones.

Project Period: 9/30/99 - 9/29/01

The Community Cares project has a current membership consisting of local residents, school representatives, law enforcement, local government, local municipal court, youth parents, social services providers, drug treatment providers, behavioral health providers, recreational providers, religious organizations, and local businesses. Having an existing prevention team has established a forum for developing consensus and decision-making for selecting a family strengthening program for the East Cleveland community. At this point the inclination is leaning toward a family skills training model.

The Growing Up with Healthy Connections program will determine if a specific intervention approach is effective in enhancing the protective factors and diminishing the risk factors of 6-to-8 year old COSAPs. There are two major program goals: 1) delayed, reduced, or eliminated substance abuse and 2) improved behavioral, emotional, social, cognitive, and physical outcomes. Three program objectives have been set: 1) parent participants will decrease substance abuse, 2) participating families will demonstrate improved family functioning, and 3) COSAPs will increase their protective factors and decrease their risk factors. This program is based on the social ecology model of adolescent substance use and will include interventions similar to those used in the Strengthening Families Program.
